2. DATA COLLECTION ANALYSIS

2.6 Data Analysis Questions

Analyze the LEA’s data and answer the guiding questions to determine existing trends and patterns that support the identification of demographic and financial needs. Student subgroups with a count of less than 15 are denoted by “TFS” (too few students).

What perception data did you use?	Perception data used were parent, teacher, and student surveys. Informal Staff Needs Assessments were utilized to determine professional development requested by teachers.

What does the perception data tell you?	Analysis of perception data helped Jeff Davis Elementary to prioritize areas of improvement in instruction, professional development, parent/community involvement, and safe environment for both staff and students.
---	--

What process data did you use?	Process data used included collaborative planning and instruction protocol, common assessment analysis protocol, and meeting protocol to ensure consistency throughout the contents and grade levels. Program services were analyzed to determine effectiveness of programs in regards to student achievement. Additional instruction (SPED, Tier 2-3, ESOL) intervention is in place for students that need the services.
--	---

What does your process data tell you?	Protocols created and implemented by teachers ensures these procedures are pervasively being done throughout the school. Continued monitoring of these protocols will be done by administrative team. Programs and interventions in place have positively impacted student achievement in most areas. Areas of needs improvement will be addressed through additional professional development. New incentives will continue to be implemented and monitored for fidelity throughout all content areas.

What achievement data did you use?	Achievement data includes Georgia Milestones End of Grade Assessment, Content Benchmark, Reading Inventory Lexile Assessment, Multigrade Diagnostic, and ACCESS for ELLs.
--	--

What does your achievement data tell you?	FY18 GMAS preliminary scores indicate we have made improvements in all content areas. The areas of deficiency are in the area of ELA and Math. In ELA, we are below the FY17 state average for achievement levels 2, 3, and 4. Third grade is 7% below; 4th grade is 2% below; and 5th is 2% below FY17 state average. In Math, we have a higher average for achievement levels 2, 3, and 4 as compared to FY17 state average. However, our Level 2 average is still above the state level. Our goal is to decrease our Level 1 and 2 percentages to be below the state average. Benchmark data was used primarily to adjust instruction throughout the year.

What demographic data did you use?	The demographic data used was population of economically disadvantaged, English Language Learner, gifted, migrant, students with disabilities, race, and ethnicity within JDES. A breakdown of student attendance, discipline referrals, and staff capacity were also viewed.
--	--

What does the demographic data tell you?	Demographic data analysis resulted in a high population of economically disadvantaged, SWD, ELL, and black students that were not proficient on GMAS. Although we saw some areas of improvement within the different demographic groups, there is still an overall need to ensure students have an equal opportunity to receive quality instruction regardless of subgroup. With very little staff turnover anticipated for SY20, we feel professional development in instruction will help close the gaps for all subgroups. Attendance and discipline improved during SY19 as compared to SY18.

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.1 Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Read the trends and patterns summaries from each section of the data analysis process. Use the information in these summaries to complete 3.2 and 3.3. Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.2. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Coherent Instructional: Summarize the coherent instructional system trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Teacher aligning the curriculum, assessments, and instructional strategies will ensure a guaranteed and viable curriculum. Student achievement will increase with continuous monitoring of the the effective practices in all classrooms. An ELA and Math instructional audit showed a weakness in the areas of a balanced approach to literacy and an effective math lesson. Through professional development, JDES is in the process of implementing new initiatives that will be continuously monitored and assessed throughout the school year.
Effective Leadership: Summarize the effective leadership trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Data analysis from multiple data resources are being used to ensure the needs of our students, teachers, and leaders are being met. Data from assessments and informal observations have identified areas of strengths and weaknesses that will be addressed through future PLC.
Professional Capacity: Summarize the professional capacity trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	The team identified the data analysis process and teacher needs assessments as the driving forces as to why and what kind of professional learning needs to be conducted throughout the year. The teachers look at their own data, grade-level data, and school-level data to prioritize the needs.
Family and Community Engagement: Summarize the family and community engagement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification	Parent participation and surveys will identify the needs of students, teachers, and leaders. Communication among all stakeholders is important in making sure all stakeholders are involved in any decision making regarding the school. The team feels there is adequate communication between school and parents.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Family and Community Engagement: Summarize the family and community engagement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Parent participation and surveys will identify the needs of students, teachers, and leaders. Communication among all stakeholders is important in making sure all stakeholders are involved in any decision making regarding the school. Supportive Learning Environment: Summarize the supportive learning environment trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	After reviewing GMAS subgroup data, the team agreed there are areas of improvement in our economically disadvantaged and black students in ELA. The school provides adequate support learning programs for all of our students through tiered instructions, reading and math remedial classes, and restructured ELA and Math instruction. The initiatives will continue to be implemented and monitored by administration.
Demographic and Financial: Summarize the demographic and financial trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	The team feels the lack of employment opportunities in our community have led to a higher number of students in the economically disadvantaged subgroup. Our community has a high poverty rate. The school will continue to adjust the daily schedule to allow progress monitoring during the day without taking away from content academic time.
Student Achievement: Summarize the student achievement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	FY18 GMAS preliminary scores indicate we have made improvements in all content areas. IDEA – Special Education, Economically Disadvantaged Children, and English Learners.

Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.3. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths	Special Education and ESOL teachers are professionally qualified. These teachers regularly participate in professional learning communities with regular education teachers to ensure consistency throughout instruction. Having a high population of economically disadvantaged students has helped teachers to plan accordingly in general education classrooms.
Challenges	Challenges faced by all teachers for SPED, ED, and ELL is providing equal opportunities for learning in all classrooms. All three of these groups come with various levels of needs so differentiation is imperative. Effective differentiation needs to be implemented and monitored to ensure it is being done with fidelity and consistently.
